Dear Scott,

Would you please pass on our thanks to all your team for the first class work and total co-operation we've had during the seven months of our auditorium seat recovering project. Everyone here is very pleased not only with the quality of your work, but also with the professionalism of the company.

I know that any company is only as good as every member of the team, but can I single out Helen who I have mainly been dealing with. Her communications skills are excellent whether they are by phone or email. This is only matched by her efficiency and obvious objective of providing the best possible service to your customers.

At the moment the seating is re-arranged for our current production, but when this is over I will send you some photographs now the project is completed. We'll be very happy to recommend the company and its work with total confidence.

Best wishes,
